Item Reference: SA1081107

Date of manufacture: 18th Century

Description

A most unusual silver (not marked) urn shaped oval box most likely for a ring/seal. Probably continental in origin. The hinged top of the box looks very like the top of a fob seal which leads us to believe that it may have contained either a seal or a seal ring. Attractive decoration on the body and rope rings to either side so it could be hung from watch chain or a chatelaine. H 5.5 cm W 3.5 cm D 2 cm
