Description

A beautiful antique oil lamp complete with its original Hinks burner, cranberry glass font and glass chimney. It stands on a heavy black ceramic foot with a pretty brass base and the cranberry font has nicely cut detail. The lamp is in good condition for its age and displays beautifully. The brass base has been gently cleaned and polished. The burner is in good shape and the wick turners move smoothly. The glass chimney is in excellent condition with just a few small nibbles around the rim. The oil lamp is untested and I have not had it lit however it appears to be in good order and I see no reason why it should not work as designed. Approximate Measurements: Height : 13" / 33cm body of lamp without chimney Height : 22 1/2" / 57 cm with glass chimney Width : 6" / 15cm across cranberry glass Depth : 6 3/4" / 17cm across black base The best description comes from the photos so please look at them all carefully and if you have any questions just ask.
