Description

A Handsome 17th Century Oak Chest of Drawers in Two Sections. Made in two sections for ease of transport, the piece has a moulded overhanging top above four graduated drawers, each drawer front having differently shaped panelled carving in deep relief. The drawers have gilded drop handles and escutcheon plates. The chest stands on simple stile feet. The sides are intricately panelled. This piece has a truly glorious, dark patinated surface, rich in colour, created by years of use. The timber used throughout is of very high quality.
