Description

This Tudor Period Bronze Signet Ring is a stunning piece of history, capturing the elegance and sophistication of the era. Crafted from bronze, it features a distinct trumpeted raised ring face, giving it a unique profile that commands attention. Atop this elevated stage, a meticulously engraved fleur-de-lis with a plant motif, symbolizing purity, light, and life—themes deeply resonant during the Tudor period. The fleur-de-lis, or lily and rose, a classic heraldic symbol, alongside the botanical engravings, reflects the period's fascination with symbolism and the natural world. This signet ring is not just a piece of jewellery but a testament to the artistry and cultural values of Tudor society. A part of our Tudor jewellery collection. A certificate of authenticity will be supplied with this ring.
