Description

A beautiful antique pine dairy table, the design of which suggest it originates from North Wales. The table has three drawers with the central drawer being smaller with a very attractive shaped detail below. It stands on square tapered legs. The top has been newly fitted as the original top was missing, and has been made from sycamore which was typically used for dairy table tops. This would make a fantastic kitchen island. A very attractive table with three useful size drawers bearing the original ebonised wooden knobs. The table is finished all round so can stand in the centre of a room if desired. The sycamore top has been left unfinished so that it can be scrubbed and left to develop a patina over time, or finished with a product of your choice. Condition: The table base has some wear around the base of the feet, and the base of the centre drawer has been replaced, but otherwise it is in very good condition. The top is newly made. Mainland UK delivery (excluding the Scottish highlands) is included in the price - if you would like a quote for delivery elsewhere, or if you would like to collect the item yourself, please get in touch.
