Description

George III mahogany tea caddy, dating back to circa 1760, is a splendid example of Georgian craftsmanship. The caddy boasts a hinged lid adorned with an original swan neck handle, elegantly perched atop a raised platform. The platform itself is distinguished by its concave sides and delicate thumbnail mouldings, adding a touch of sophistication to the design. The front facade is graced with an original brass escutcheon plate, which not only enhances its aesthetic appeal but also serves as a testament to its authenticity. Upon opening, one is greeted by a fully fitted interior, thoughtfully designed to accommodate the tea connoisseur's needs. This handsome caddy, with its rich mahogany hues and graceful aging, remains in very good original condition. It is not merely a utilitarian object but a piece of history, evoking the elegance and refinement of the Georgian era. A true collector's item, it promises to be a conversation starter and a cherished heirloom for generations to come. Height: 6 1/2 inches (16.5 cm) Width: 10 1/4 inches (26 cm) Depth: 6 1/2 inches (16.5 cm)
