Description

A particularly good late 19th century burr walnut library table desk with the well patinated original inset leather top above two frieze drawers and raised on attractively turned legs terminating in brass and ceramic castors. Very good condition, structurally all in good order with just some light aged wear commensurate with age and use. There is some very minor evidence of old long gone woodworm as is common in walnut and the end panel at one end of the desk is not as lustrous as the other. English, late 19th century. H: 74 W: 107 D: 51 cm Height to underside of desk: 57 cm
