Description

An unusual child's barbers chair in beech and ash. Out swept arms with chamfered supports, centred by a pierced reverse heart splat with composition akin to a 'smokers bow' chair. The perforated diamond motif seat cover has been added to a previously caned seat that increases and decreases in height on a good quality thread. The out swept legs are united by a turned four way cross stretcher. Untouched surface and a good colour. English - c.1890
