This is a fine quality antique English late 17th Century Derbyshire chair, constructed of solid oak, ideal for use as an occasional or side chair, boasting a stunning colour and patination, circa 1680, in excellent condition. This early vernacular oak chair, which is typical of chairs from the county of Derbyshire, England, by the triple Gothic arch pierced panel back, displays a stunning colour and original patination. The Derbyshire oak chair is decorated with two small acorn finials above a reed moulded top rail, with three pierced Gothic arched panels below, interspersed with turned spindles and a lower horizontal moulded rail. The solid oak seat is bordered...
