Description

A lovely carved Italian cassone on hairy paw feet . It has an interesting carved front with a resting man and a pair of fauns. We believe the bearded gentleman is probably the god Silvanus the god of nature, and the fauns (half man half goat) represent forest nature and landscape, there are also grapes . The carving is of good quality . The front and lid are walnut and the back sides and bottom are pine . This would look great at the bottom of a bed or as a stand out piece in most places.

Internal Ref: cassone
