Description

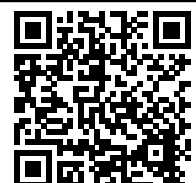

Blue and white Chinese tea bowl and saucer, Qianlong period about 1750, porcelain made for export, deer and house pattern, probably from one of the recovered cargoes such as the Nanking. As you can see from the pictures the bowl is a little discoloured due to probable long term immersion in the sea. It is in very good condition, with no chips or cracks. There are a number of rough areas on the edges but these are firing imperfections. Size Saucer 5.25" (13.5cms) diameter Cup 3.25" (8.5cms) diameter x 2" (5cms) height
