Description

Antique WWI ART NOUVEAU Inlaid Mahogany Barograph & Barometer Dial & Drawer DESCRIPTION: This is a wonderful quality and very rare antique Art Nouveau barograph which has the rear feature of a barometer dial with thermometer and is exquisitely inlaid. It also has a wonderful military interest having a presentation plaque from WWI from the Officers of the 2nd Battalion London Rifle Brigade. The case is made from mahogany and has lovely deep bevelled glass to all four sides and the top. The top, the drawer and the four corners are inlaid with stringing. The front drawer and the two front columns are also beautifully inlaid with a stunning Art Nouveau design. The movement is 8 day which is a good quality and is complete with it's winding key which is integral with the movement. The barograph bears a presentation plate 'C.G. WAUGH, ESG IN RECOLLECTION OF MANY KINDNESSES TO THE OFFICERS OF THE 2nd BATTALION LONDON RIFLE BRIGADE DURING THEIR STAY IN HAYWARDS HEATH NOV 1914 - MAY 1915'. Having researched this we found that the plaque ties up with the history of the Regiment as follows : : '2/5th (City of London) Battalion (London Rifle Brigade) Formed in London in Septemb...
