Description

A magnificent and rare dome-topped tea caddy dating to around 1800, late Georgian or George III in period. Made from Mahogany and trimmed with Boxwood, there are two sensational inlays, the top one being the most notable and rarely found, a charming dog being the central motif, highly desirable and sought-after. The interior has two lidded compartments, each lid with a turned Ivory knob, complimenting the typically Georgian Ivory escutcheon which houses the working key.
