Description

Chunky antique stud earrings each holding a polished coral cabochon secured with a gold bead and fully encased at the back in a nine-carat gold bezel setting. The coral is a deep orange salmon colour with a lovely glossy finish.

- Condition: The earrings are in excellent antique condition. As a natural material the corals are unique in shape and colour and under magnification have some natural surface imperfections, which is quite nice to see.
- Fixing: Posts and nine-carat gold butterfly scrolls, likely added later, possibly as a conversion from buttons or shirt studs.
- Era: Estimated Victorian (1837-1901).
- Size: Approximately 1cm diameter.
- Weight: 3.2g.
