Description

Superb Large Heals of London 19th Century Newlyn Oak Antique Wardrobe-Splits Up. This is a fabulous, large scale antique Newlyn wardrobe by Heals of London around 1880-90. In amazing condition, all so clean and very original. Although this is a large Heals antique wardrobe, it does split up into five sections, making it much more manageable for stairs! There are three middle sections, the wonderful deep cornice and then the stretchered drawer base. This Heals antique oak wardrobe features large, decorative Guild of Handicraft iron work that is still in the original, un-polished steel finish, the full length dressing mirror plate is original too. The Heals wardrobe stands on turned legs that are connected by square stretchers. Inside the wardrobe are a central fitted flight of drawers with open hanging spaces to each side with the original hanging rails. A stunning antique oak wardrobe by Heals of London, a fine example in fabulous condition and complete with the large brass Heals makers label. We also have the matching pair of Heals Newlyn bedside cabinets. Dimensions Height: 197cm (78.17") Width: 201cm (79.76") Depth: 58cm (23.02")
