Description

This attractive watercolour portraits shows Miss C Thornthwaite, a lady who is clearly fond of flowers. Not only does she have colourful flowers tucked under her straw bonnet but she is holding a posy of lily of the valley and roses and stands on a balcony entwined with delicate passionflowers. Painted on card, the portrait is signed reverse by Ed Smyth, 85 Newman St and dated December 1839. The portrait is presented in a handsome maple veneer frae with a deep gilt slip. There is a small loss to the veneer on one corner and a little fading to the watercolour. Edward Smyth exhibited at the Royal Academy between 1819 and 1844. Framed Size: 348 x 287mm
