Description

A George II period, mahogany console / fold-over card / games table, Circa 1750. This high quality table features an attractively figured solid mahogany top rounded corners and edges. The top folds out to reveal a square inset baize, supported by a single gateleg rear leg. Within the frieze is a full width single drawer, with cockbeaded edges, and double elaborate brass pull handles. The table is raised on fine tapering round legs, with offset small pad feet, sat on small brass castors. An attractive high quality table, full of originality. Well presented, in very good condition. Cleaned and wax polished, and very much ready for use. Dimensions: This table measures approximately 73.75 cm (29") tall, 91 cm (35.75") wide, 42.5 cm (16.75") deep unfolded, and 85 cm (33.5") folded out across the top. Condition: Please see the pictures for details of the items condition. - This table is in a very good condition, commensurate with its age, and is structurally sound and sturdy. A single aged split on the top, well filled and polished over, a groove from the gateleg, again well polished in, some other minor odd marks and blemishes. Other than that no obvious signs of damage o...
