Description

A superb antique Victorian leather armchair, made in England and dating from around the 1890-1900 period. It is of outstanding quality, its beautifully made and is well sprung. The frame is generous in proportions, and this is very comfortable to relax in. The leather has an absolutely gorgeous colour tone and patina, the frame sits on solid mahogany bun feet. We have had the leather hand coloured and enhanced by our leather restorer, it is in excellent overall condition for its age. There are just some very old minor marks and historical wear here and there, adding to the overall charm.
