Description

Edwardian silver sovereign case in a square pillow shape nicely engraved to both sides. The front has a shield shaped vacant cartouche which could be used to personalise the case with initials. The case opens with a push button at the top and hinges at the bottom to reveal a spring loaded holder to hold a sovereign. The cover of the holder is decorated with engine turned engraving and the lid interior is gilt finished. The sovereign case comes with a loop to suspend it from a fob or chain. A nice antique collectors item. Condition: In good antique condition, with a very small dint to one corner of the back - hardly noticeable but mentioned for complete accuracy. Hallmarked Birmingham 1908 with initials J. G. slightly worn but most probably for James Griffiths. Measurements: 3cm x 2.8 cm case Length including ring: 4.3 cm Weight: 19.2 grams All measurements are approximate.
