Description

This is an antique bureau mirror. An English, mahogany and oak dressing table mirror, dating to the Georgian period, circa 1800. Fascinating bureau form, with a suite of drawers and great colour. Displays a desirable aged patina and in good order throughout. Select stocks present fine figuring and deep caramel hues. Bevelled mirror plate presents a desirable light foxing. Prominent slot-in carved pediment with scrolled leaf fretwork. Mirror plate rotates within shaped uprights, the frame edge gently chamfered. Good reflective quality to the plate, with a bright appearance. Fall-front bureau base and lower drawer with brass lock escutcheons — key present. Drawer boxes crafted from oak, each in pleasingly clean order. Small brass pulls access the set of six drawers behind the fall front. Sliding lopers support the fall front when open, each dressed with a small pull. Wide lower drawer dressed with drop handles upon brass decorative back plates. The whole raised upon a pair of shaped front feet, with bracket feet to rear. This is a charming antique bureau mirror, presenting a delightful mirror plate above a useful suite of storage drawers, perfect for organising a dressing table. So...
