Description

A beautiful oak stationery cabinet dating from the late 19th / early 20th Century. It has a lovely warm patina and a sloped front with brass escutcheon and it comes with a working key. The doors opens out to reveal a series of shaped racks for holding papers and letters. Above this is a perpetual calendar with days, numbers and months. There is also a pen tray and a glass inkwell and below this there is a large drawer that pulls out. It is in good condition and although it has been used it has been well looked after over the years. There are a few small knocks and marks around the outside, general signs of age and use and a couple of old repairs but nothing detrimental. It has been lightly cleaned and polished and is ready for use. The best description comes from the photos so please look at them all carefully and if you have any questions just ask.
