Description

This is a George III mahogany snap top table with a beautiful colour and good antique patina dating from around 1790. The table is in solid mahogany with a reeded central column and tripod base and tilt action solid mahogany top which still has its original hand forged iron catch in good working order. This has a very old and solid repair to the base as photographed so has had a life but is sound and solid ready for years more use. A very charming, lovely little table with loads of character. The table is a very useful size measuring 56 cms by 53 cms and 74 cms high. With the table opened the overall height is 104 cms. UK delivery can be arranged with our trusted furniture courier and costs £50 plus vat to most destinations.
