Description

This is a wonderful 17th/18th Century Italian cupboard in dusty pink paint. The scale is hugely impressive offering plenty of storage. This is currently a wardrobe with shelves and hanging space but can be all shelved if you prefer. There will also be a complete back panel before delivery. The drawers to the interior are a later addition but made very well and sympathetically to the age of the piece. The quality is very high and the original paint is still evident in number of areas. A truly stunning piece that original was in a house in Genoa. Key included and working lock. This whole piece breaks down flat for ease of moving it into situ.
