A very good looking well made and decorative pair, it is very rare to find these bookcases as a pair and with the original glass window panels, usually they were replaced as was the fashion in the Edwardian era. They are carved in the Jacobean and Gothic revival taste which is super decorative, they look to be Dutch to me, they are very tall and attractive as art furniture. Condition wise they have been cleaned waxed and polished, there will be some patination marks here or there from honest age and use, the second bookcase has two small losses to the timber, I can have these replaced if the new owner wishes with my cabinet maker for the cost price. Dimensions Height:- 158.5cm top section, 105cm base, 263.5cm total. Width:- 95cm ...
