Description

Chippendale-style Flame Mahogany Chest of Drawers Fine Quality flame Mahogany chest drawers made circa 1890 This exquisite Chippendale-style chest of drawers, crafted from rich flame mahogany, is of particularly small proportions, offering both elegance and charm in its design. The serpentine-shaped front, a hallmark of the period, enhances its graceful curves, while the canted corners are adorned with intricate carved blind fretwork, adding a subtle touch of sophistication. The four graduated drawers, also serpentine in shape, are finely finished with dovetail joints and brass pulls, showcasing both form and function. The chest rests on sturdy bracket feet, completing the refined and timeless aesthetic. Perfect for adding a touch of period elegance to any space. Condition Good antique condition- repair to top split burr. some little nicks.
