Description

A lovely country oak bureau dating from the late 18th / early 19th Century. It has nice small proportions and stands on bracket feet. It has a sloped front above four drawers, each with brass swan neck handles. Two pulls support the front which opens to reveal a series of small pigeon holes and drawers. It comes with its original lock and key. The lock no longer works but the key helps to open the front. It is in very good condition for its age and the oak has developed a wonderful rich colour over the years. It has been cleaned and gently polished, retaining the original patina. There are general signs of age and use, some old knocks, small splits and a few small repairs but no major damages and the piece is strong and sturdy. The interior is in good condition with a few old surface marks and ink stains but nothing detrimental. The drawers open smoothly and are generally clean and tidy inside. The best description comes from the photos so please look at them all carefully and if you have any questions just ask. Nationwide delivery available through our network of reliable couriers.
