Description

4 Architectural Classical Inspired Ionic Column Fascias 200cm tall, C1900. A group of 4 classically inspired architectural ionic column fascias, dating circa 1900-1910, each measuring 200cm tall. Reclaimed from a period house, each column measures apx 4cm deep at the lower skirting board section, these are decorative fascias that sit against a wall which skirting boards connect to the base section. Please note, there are 4 matching columns, albeit sold as 3 plus 1.., 1 column has been later made up, once on a wall and painted or stained it is difficult to tell apart. Whilst 3 are made from oak, the 4th is matched using ply board. Dimensions Height 200cm Width 19cm Depth 4cm Superbly stylish set of 4 architectural ionic columns of excellent scale and proportions which can compliment a domestic or commercial project, adding period character and architectural interest to an interior design scheme. Once fitted to an interior, these can be painted to match any decorations. Please request more photos and any questions invited. Free collection from Lewes, East Sussex. U.K. delivery available.
