Description

Antique Recumbent Greyhound, Weathered Composite Stone Circa 1910, 70cm. A superbly stylish antique composite stone, weathered recumbent greyhound circa 1910 of fine quality and excellent colour, scale and posture. The 70cm early stone greyhound is in mostly excellent condition for an early example, high stone content and very heavy. The greyhound possesses an elegant timeworn appearance and patination with minimal loss or chips, a small nibble to its left ear which is mostly unnoticeable and otherwise in very good structural condition, testament to its quality. A handsome weathered stone greyhound, antique garden statuary which works equally well indoors, a versatile piece that can occupy a front door entrance, hallway chest or a terrace, potting shed or orangery to a large farmhouse table. A stylish piece of considerable decorative appeal that can enhance a classic or contemporary space, an interior or garden design piece. Dimensions Length 70cm Width 29cm Height 41cm Please request more photos and any questions invited. Free collection from Lewes, East Sussex. U.K. delivery available.
