Description

Attractive hand painted bowl decorated with a continuous band of pomegranates and berries, design with raised edges, painted in rich warm red, lavender, gold and green on a wash of cobalt over warm sand on the outside. Berries and leaves in complementary colors adorn the inside. The footed bowl is of circular form with an elegant handle on each side.

Signed in green by William Moorcroft on the bottom.

The first pieces of fine art pottery from Moorcroft were designed by William Moorcroft and launched into the world in 1897 whilst employed at James Macintyre & Co. William Moorcroft was a graduate of what is now the Royal College of Art in London, and the new art pottery was purchased strongly from the outset by such prestigious stores as Liberty of London, Harrods and Tiffany & Co. in New York. Early Moorcroft is much-prized by the most renowned auction houses across the world and regularly fetches high prices. Happily, this is still a feature of Moorcroft today where the art pottery's reputation for both remarkable artistic and good inv...
