Description

A super example of a Lanarkshire chair, the overall proportions are slightly smaller than a typical chair of the period. Good condition overall. The seat has the original slats set lower than the seat rails, presumably to accommodate a squab cushion. In this example a section of packing case has been nailed on top, around 100 years ago. The right hand stump has had two additional screws added. Seat height 35.5cm. Reliable transport throughout the UK can be easily arranged at cost price, let me know if you would like a quote.
