Description

A real treasure from the 1930s is this Art Deco tallboy . On first viewing this piece one can't not be impressed by the obvious quality and size , made from solid mahogany for the carcass with a heavily figured walnut book paged veneers to the exterior, it just oozes style and luxury. A very solid, heavy piece that will last any new owners lifetime and beyond. The doors both open smoothly with a working lock and key. Brass hinges and internal lock systems all working well and not corroded. Still retains its original catalin bakelite and chrome handles . Lots of useful and generous sized storage within , with two very generously sized open shelves and three full length drawers to the base. We've given this piece a professionally and full restoration . It's free from any damage and is in very good showroom condition with a beautiful polished finish.
