Description

An Exhibition quality Renaissance style mid 19th century (circa 1850) mahogany side cabinet stamped 'Holland & Sons' (1803-1942) with possible design influences by the architect Gottfried Semper (1803-1879). This superb cabinet of inverted breakfront form to the front consists of a solid mahogany top with mahogany crossbanding to the back and shaped gadrooned edge to the front. This leads down to a finely carved Renaissance style frieze drawer with 'Holland & Sons' stamp, central carved scallop shell and foliate carved decoration to either side, leading down to two finely figured mahogany doors with shaped recessed panels and carved paterae to the outer four corners, the doors opening to reveal shelves for storage. To the outer side of the doors, finely carved Renaissance style scrolling lion embellishments with floral, foliate and acanthus decoration, the shaped corners and sides all having replicated recessed panel and carved paterae design, all supported on a moulded plinth. The makers of this cabinet, Holland & Sons, were founded in 1803 by Stephen Taprell and William Holland, a relation of the architect Henry Holland, the firm soon became one of the largest and m...
