Description

Set of three Meiji Period, late 1800's, Japanese Imari Plates with a matching Bowl. The design is commonly known as Black Ship, depicting an nineteenth century sailing ship and Dutch or Portugiese images of people. The plates and the bowl are hand decorated and gold gilded. The plates have a diameter of ca 19 cm and the bowl has a diameter of ca 11.5 cm with a height of ca 6.5 cm. One plate is in perfect condition with the other two having a small chip each (pictured in close up). The bowl has a rare late 1800's/early 1900's pedlar repair with four brass crampons (also pictured in close up). Free Delivery to the UK and Ireland. For all destinations to the USA, Canada and the Eu please add £ 25. For all other destinations please ask for a quote.
