Description

A large and impressive georgian style kitchen cupboard. The cupboard breaks into six sections, and when assembled forms a concave breakfront cupboard with flanking shelves at either end, below are cupboards with a shelved interior. The centre section of the cupboard opens to reveal a large selved interior with a sliding marble chopping block (small piece missing from the corner but not noticable). At the very top, a heavily moulded covetto cornice with dental moulding below, the cupboard doors decorated with reeded moulded panels, which i mimiced on the edges of the adjustable shelves. The cupboard is of very archetectural form and is a real statement piece of furniture. This piece is in very good condition, it has a few chips and cracks here and there, but it is in excellent order, the paint work could be left as it is or repainted. This is perfect for a large country house kitchen.
