Description

This is an exhibition quality antique English large Victorian Maple & Co. wardrobe, constructed from olive wood, inspired by the aesthetic movement, comprising a bow-front centre, flanked by two full-length mirrored doors, decorated with stunning carved detail, circa 1880, in excellent original condition. This Victorian wardrobe was retailed and sold by Maple & Co. of London. The wardrobe comprises an elaborate floral carved detachable pelmet, comprising an ornate central urn, flanked by scroll & feather ends and aesthetic geometric mouldings. The carved pelmet rail runs the full length of the wardrobe. Please note, the pelmet is detachable and can be removed, if the ceiling height in the room is too restrictive. The central section of the Victorian Maple & Co. wardrobe is constructed with two small bow-front doors, decorated with four fine floral carved panels, on a punch work background, set within a moulded frame. The doors open to reveal three sliding mahogany-linen linen trays. Below, is a bank of five graduated drawers, finished with chamfered drawer fronts which are constructed with solid mahogany hand-dovetail drawer linings. The doors and drawer front...
