Description

George III walnut chest in 2 parts This handsome George III walnut chest was originally made in 2 parts to allow for ease of transportation to and around the home. The cabinetmaker would have been informed that the chest was to go up a difficult staircase. It is fitted 6 graduated drawers, all with the Georgian period swan-neck swing brass handles. The top half splits below the top 3 drawers, leaving the base section with its own 3 drawers. The sides have a good wide walnut cross-banding around the edge. Its top with the moulded edge and cross-banding is also around the top and drawer fronts. This magnificent George III walnut chest stands on bracket feet. As this chest comes in 2 parts you will be able to get into an upstairs bedroom even if you have a difficult staircase. The storage this provides will be a fantastic addition to your home. Imagine waking up in the morning and having pleasure of seeing this wonderful piece of Georgian Walnut furniture.
