Description

A small gilt cased carriage clock in the Gorge style, surrounded by thick bevelled white glass. An attractive masked dial, showing Roman numerals and alarm aperture. The main dial is in great condition and shows the inner line within the Roman numerals, typical of Henri Jacot. This clock benefits from having quarter striking or what is known as a petite sonnerie, whereby the clock strikes the quarters automatically, and if the repeat button is pressed, will strike the full grande sonnerie (the hours and quarters). This clock has just undergone a full restoration and has all original parts, and original escapement. Sold with a 24 month guarantee.
