Description

Beautiful Art Deco Czech perfume atomiser dating from the 1930s. Features a peachy pink glass it's quite subtle as a background colour with jet black enamel decoration with exquisite acid etched detailing. A lot of work has gone into the decoration of this bottle which includes the stopper, very highly detailed. These size bottles are very hard to come by. Offered with no damage and little to no wear to the enamelling. There is some very minor surface marks to the base which is to be expected. This is the perfect find that will be an asset to any collection gift to an Art Deco admirer. The etched decoration is in excellent condition with attractive geometric shape.
