Description

Due to relocation I am offering this item at a give away price. Delivery price is to be discussed due to size. The top comes off the base which could be dismantled. Collection is fine. This Louis XV Redwood Table is an embodiment of artistic brilliance, Measuring and impressive 14.5 feet in Length, this table boasts a single planked top meticulously fashioned from a rare Andaman Padauk. The table's enchanting allure is further accentuated by its exquisite Coromandel edging encasing it with an elegant touch. Beyond its impeccable design the Louis XV Redwood Table weaves a tale of historical significance identified by the esteemed wood identification experts from AIS or Maryland, the Andaman Padauk hails from exclusive Andaman Islands, thriving in the lush environs of deciduous and semi-moist deciduous forests along the riverbanks. Often referred to as Andaman Redwood or Vermillion Redwood in the United States, this revered tree once graced the British-controlled Andaman Islands from the 18th Century until 1947. Size - Length 435cm (14ft 27") Width 141cm (4ft 6") Height 81cm (2ft 66"). For 35 years, I have specialised in selling and restoring Antiqu...
