Description

This rare wirework egg rack is made of Old Sheffield Plate and comprises of a frame, four egg cups, a pair of condiment shakers and four Georgian silver egg spoons. The piece is unmarked but dates to the 18th Century. The silver egg spoons bear the initials of the maker and a lion passant. A wonderful and useful piece of substantial proportions. In good condition with some copper bleed to the rack and the egg cups, including the interiors. Some wear to the shakers and the egg spoons. The rack has one strut that needs resoldering (see photograph). The rack stands with a slight wobble, however this is still an impressive piece. Weight approx 867g. Length approx 26cm Depth approx 17cm Height to top of handle approx 16cm Length of egg spoon approx 12cm Egg cup - height approx 6.5cm. Diameter approx 6cm. Shaker - height approx 8cm.
