Description

A Victorian hand blown decoratively engraved rummer or wine glass c1870. The rummer is quite thick and sturdy and the bowl is engraved with the words A Present surrounded by scrolls on one side and by large engraved fern fronds around the rest of the bowl. The stem base has a pontil mark. There is no damage; excellent condition and the rummer has a nice unpretentious antique feel to it. Obviously originally intended as a gift for a special person.
