Description

An Edwardian 18ct gold ring set with three graduated cabochon opals interspersed with two pairs of two old mine cut diamonds. C1900. The ring is not hallmarked which is quite usual with antique jewellery of the period. The opals have consistent vibrant colours, with bright green, blue tones with tiny touches of flame orange. The opals and diamonds are set in an ornate gallery with plain sides on the shank. UK ring size L-M, nearer L.
