Description

This is a highly decorative and fine quality antique French Art Deco sideboard, constructed from mahogany, walnut and maple, with a stunning serpentine shape, circa 1930, in excellent original condition. This Art Deco credenza, which was made in Paris, France during the 1930's boasts a stunning serpentine front, with "stepped" top section and curved sides. The Art Deco sideboard comprises a central maple wood door, decorated with lozenge shaped ebony string inlay, flanked by two large serpentine mahogany doors. The shaped doors retain the original chrome metal swirl shaped handles and key escutcheon, along with the original brass lever lock and original working key. Inside the French Art Deco sideboard, the backs of the shaped doors are decorated with stunning figured walnut timbers. The internal cupboard comprises a fixed shelf, decorated with maple edging and ebony string inlay. The central door opens to reveal a central shelf, which is also lined with maple and ebony string inlay, but also a single working maple drawer, also decorated with ebony string inlay. The French Art Deco sideboard stands on its original raised shaped plinth and retains its original ba...
