Description

A George 111, Tripod Mahogany Tilt Top Table, Excellent Natural Bleached Colour. A superbly stylish late 18th century, George 111 round tilt top table with an exquisite naturally sun bleached colour and established patination. A generous size late 18th century, tripod tilt top table, circa 1780 with a top diameter measuring 85cm and standing well at 70cm tall. The tilt mechanism operates correctly, locking the top tightly and creating a perfectly flat surface, with an elegant twist stem above 3 gracefully curved supports terminating at pad feet. A handsome table with a superb naturally bleached colour, fully appreciated when matched to the top's underside, a super thing. Dimensions Height 70cm Diameter 85cm Height when tilted 117cm A wonderful George 111 tilt top table in excellent structural condition, the colour is wonderful whilst some may consider it against the popular appearance of a dark stain or flame finish, we consider this to be an outstanding colour that works well within an interior design aesthetic, a classic or contemporary space. Presented in very good condition, please see a historic repair to the top with diamond cut veneers inset to the centre....
