Description

Dynamic, high octane, clever and full of fun is this surrealist landscape dating from the 1950, which features a double bass, a xylophone, drums and more. Acquired in France and very original in style, our oil on hardboard is unsigned. I have not been able to formally identify the artist, but the work reminds me of pictures I have seen by Endre Balint (1914-1986), a Hungarian modernist and surrealist who was a protégé of André Breton and who was active in Paris in the 1940s and 50s. Measuring 65 x 46 cm, the painting is presented in an oak frame with luxurious liner. The overall framed size is 77 x 58 cm.
