Description

18th century Oak dresser base This 18th century Oak dresser base was made circa 1740, it is of the most amazing golden honey colour and with a rich patina. You just want to stroke it as it looks so appealing. The dresser is fitted a pair of drawers with brass swan neck handles, with a double pointed arch panel door under. The cupboard space will give you so many storage options. The door panels, drawer fronts and side panels all have wonderful deep chamfers around the outline of the edges. Imagine this superb dresser base in your home and the pleasure it will give you, especially when your family and friends admire it. It can be used in many places around your home, providing a wonderful item to look at as well as large storage capacity. 136cms wide 53 1/2ins 57cms deep 22 1/2ins 90cms high 35 1/2ins All Measurements are approximate, whilst we take care in measuring there may at times be a very slight difference.
