Description

This is an antique loose tea caddy. An English, mahogany and velvet dual compartment case, dating to the Regency period, circa 1820. Beautiful Regency craftsmanship with a superb visual appeal. Displays a desirable aged patina and in good order. Select stocks present fine grain interest throughout. Rich caramel hues beam beneath the wax polish finish. Pleasingly thick lid opens to reveal a pair of canisters. Each enclosed with a flip-top lid with recessed touch point. Central mixer compartment accommodating a glass up to 10cm in diameter (4"). Fascia dressed with an inset lock — in working order, key present. Brass drop handles to either side, over pierced foliate backplates. Standing upon a quartet of squat bun feet. This is an attractive antique loose tea caddy, with an elegant appearance and a treat for tea lovers. Solid joints and construction, delivered ready for the home.
