Description

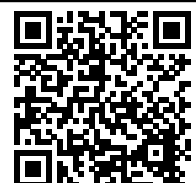

A antique four poster bed circa 1695 to 1720 being a double size and being beautifully carved and in original condition. Antique bed, Antique oak bed, oak bed, four poster bed, bed frame, antique bed frame. This imposing and very special antique oak double bed comes apart into sections for transport. As well as being known as an antique oak four poster bed, this antique double sized bed is often described as a full tester bed. This wonderful carved antique bed is understood to have originated from the late 17th century. This antique bed came from a recent country house clearance and apart from our restorers looking at repairing a very slight damage to a small lip, this antique four poster bed has knocks and chips etc from its significant age but has aged absolutely beautifully with an honest patina. Measurements: Height: 219cm high Width: Depth: 215cm depth. We offer shipping to our customers, but we do add this cost normally, so please ask for a quote before agreeing to buy.
