Description

A beautifully painted late 18th Century oil on canvas depicting a table with a patterned cloth and laden with fruit and wine, with a colourful parrot looking on. The unsigned oil is painted in the manner of Jakob Bogdani (1658-1724), who was a Hungarian artist who studied in Amsterdam. He later moved to England where he married and was a successful artist, painting pictures for Queen Ann and William III. The painting is in good condition commensurate with age and no paint losses. There are some old mends to the reverse of the canvas but they are not visible from the front and the canvas is in all ways secure. A vibrant and colourful painting in a very attractive gilded frame. The actual canvas without frame measures: 49cm X 37cm. We can deliver in UK mainland. Payment by bank transfer, PayPal or card via telephone.
