

SA1108688

A Superb 18th Century Small
Miniature of an Officer in Uniform by Patrick John
McMoreland - Signed

Price

Sold

Item Reference: SA1108688

Date of manufacture: 18th Century

Dimensions

Height = 3.7 cm (1.5")

Width = 3.2 cm (1.3")

Description

A beautifully painted small 18th century miniature by Patrick John Mc Moreland (1741 - 1809). It shows a officer in a grey wig in his uniform believed to be the King's Dragoon Guards c. 1758. The miniature measures 3.7cm x 3.2cm. The figure '293' indicates a number in a private collection. Patrick John McMoreland (1741-1809) was born in Scotland in 1741. He worked in Scotland, Manchester and London. McMoreland exhibited at the Society of Artists (1774-1775 and at the Royal Academy from 1776-1782. He trained and lectured on art in 1800. His miniature work was exquisite , and he signed his work P.Mc. Examples of his work are in the Victoria & Albert Museum and also in the British Museum. He died some time in 1809. Ivory Reg: J7AUL4DT

Internal Ref: DGJ

Seller Details

Gill Coe Antiques & Interiors

Dorking Surrey United Kingdom

Tel: 07860 158 955

International Tel: 07860 158 955

